Los Angeles, California -- The FIDM Museum and the Television Academy announce the 13th annual presentation of the Art of Television Costume Design. The exhibition pays homage to the work of this year's Emmy®-nominated Costume Designers, Costume Supervisors and Assistant Costume Designers. It will open Tuesday, August 20, 2019 and close Saturday, October 26, 2019. Museum hours are 10 a.m. – 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday.

Celebrating television costume creation, this free to the public exhibition will be held in the FIDM Museum at the Fashion Institute of Design & Merchandising, Downtown Los Angeles.

The exhibition includes over 100 costumes from a total of 23 shows. (See complete listing of all 23 featured shows on chart attached) and is highlighted with Emmy-nominated costumes from 10 television shows.

Offering visitors an opportunity to review their favorite TV shows and characters, the exhibition celebrates television costume design from a variety of television genres: episodic series, limited series and variety programming. Saluting the 2018 – 2019 television season, the exhibition will showcase the wide range of costumes produced today, from ornate period pieces, to bold contemporary dramas, Sci-Fi fantasies to quirky comedies. As always, the exhibition will include a variety of Emmy Award-nominated shows and fan favorites.
